

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

INDEX.

- Abenaki*, or Norridgewock Indians, father Ralle's manuscript vocabulary of their language 112.
- Agriculture*, its importance to the United States 49—causes which have resisted its progress 50 et seq.—an obstacle to its progress 85.
- American literature* 69, 70, 83 et seq.
- America*, character of the English travellers in 69—fortune of the political parties 74—prospect of new parties 75—absence of rank 89—elevated condition of women 90—climate and scenery 99—the ordinary calumnies of the English writers not to be regarded 191.
- Anastasius*: this novel reviewed 271 et seq.—said to have been written by an English gentleman 273—character of the work ib. et seq.—its moral character exceptionable 274—defects of the work 275—analysis of the story 281—unostentatious character of the work 306.
- Argos*, its plain contains very important remains of antiquity 282.
- Aristocracy*, an hereditary one of no advantage to the community 80, 81—The English Aristocracy is substantially one of wealth 82.
- Arts*, the fine in America 86—Architecture 87.
- Athens*, the degeneracy of modern Athens exaggerated 278—explanation of the name Sethines given to it, ib.
- B.
- Bedoween* Arabs 302.
- Blackbey*, signification of this title 290.
- Bonaparte*, Napoleon, his manner of meeting the corps legislatif 30.
- Bonaparte*, Louis, a collection of documents published by him reviewed 239 et seq.—has passed through seven translations ib.—character of Louis and of his reign 240—his work free from scandal 241—noble origin of the Bonaparte family 242—the immediate parentage of the present family 243—Louis accompanies the Egyptian expedition 244—his reluctant marriage with Hortense de Beauharnois 245—negotiations for his elevation to the crown of Holland 246 et seq.—resists the enforcing of the Berlin decree in his kingdom 249—Napoleon proposes to transfer Louis to the throne of Spain, to which the latter positively refuses to accede 251 et seq.—Louis' witty reply to the Russian minister 254—determination of Napoleon to annex Holland to France and his letter to Louis on that subject 255—9—abdication of Louis 260—his letter to Napoleon after the reverses in Russia 261—answer of Napoleon 262—address of Louis to the magistrates of Amsterdam 264—267—his last interview with Napoleon 268—his eulogium on Holland 270.
- Bristed's* work on the United States, unfavourable character of it 200.
- Bruce's* journal continued 229.
- C.
- Cambridge University*, its theological character 101.
- Chancery*, report of cases adjudged in the court of in New York reviewed 140—courts of chancery not much known in America till of late 142—in England it is the most active judicature 143—reasons why less so in America 144—5—advantages of their establishment with us 146—charitable uses ib.—guardianships 148—bills for specific performance of contracts 149—titles 150—cases in which a chancery jurisdiction is particularly wanted in the U. S. 153—courts of common law inadequate 154—course which ought to be follow-

- ed in establishing a court of equity in Massachusetts 156—the court of equity should be a distinct court 158—objection answered 159—report made to the legislature of Massachusetts on the subject of a court of equity, in 1808 160.
- Chateaurvieux*, M. de, his letters on the agriculture of Italy reviewed 49 et seq.
- Cherokee* language, specimen of in Dr. Jarvis' discourse 109.
- Civil* law, the study of 407 et seq.—reasons of its peculiar importance to our countrymen 408 et seq.—continental precedents adopted in the English maritime law 411—their actual importance 412.
- Improvement in the classical schools 421.
- Classics*, study of them discussed 311 et seq.
- Colden*, his opinion in the trial of Goodwin 120.
- Constantinople*, description of this city 283.
- Constitution* of Massachusetts, report of the legislative committee in regard to revision of, reviewed 359 et seq.—discussion of the necessity of a convention 360—8—on the partial apportionment of representation to property 374—6—on the religious test 377—the principle of an internal provision for amendments 382.
- D.
- Debtor* and Creditor, the law respecting them in the U. S. 197 et seq.—incorrect statement of Mr. Bristed on this subject 200—progress of the law of debtor and creditor in America 201—practice in England 203—difficulty of this subject of legislation 204.
- De-aval*, Sir Francis, anecdotes of 350—2—unites with Foote in a necromantic exhibition, &c. 353.
- Djezzar*, pasha of Acre 289.
- Drogoman*, import of that term 281.
- E.
- Eastern* states, letters on reviewed 68 et seq.—character of the work 70—Episcopalian worship 78—excellent spirit in which the work is written 102.
- Eaton's* index to the geology of the Northern States reviewed 226 et seq.—his lectures on geology 230.
- Edgeworth*, R. L. his memoirs continued by his daughter reviewed 340 et seq.—biography of his ancestry 343—8.
- Education*, some improvement has been made in its theory 356.
- Egypt*, description of the present natives 287—8.
- F.
- Federal* party in America, account of it 72 et seq.
- Franklin*, Dr. his example sometimes quoted as unfavourable to the necessity of the knowledge of the languages 418.
- Fürstenwärther*, his work called the German in North America reviewed 1 et seq.—objects of his visit to America 2—his free remarks on the American character 6—his aristocratic prejudices 13—his estimate of America 14, 15.
- G.
- Gagern*, M. de, procures the work of Fürstenwärther to be published 2—his instructions to this gentleman ib.—his pompous epilogue to the work of M. de F. 15—injudicious desire to keep up the national peculiarities of his countrymen in America 18.
- German* emigrants to America, their distressed condition in Holland 3—terms of the contract for their passage 4—their treatment on board American ships best 5, 6, 8.—views of the American government with respect to German emigration 7—laws for the protection of emigrants 9—this emigration advantageous to America 16—might be made use of to produce a gradual extinction of slavery ib.—causes of the great emigration from Germany 18, 19.
- Geneva*, letters from reviewed 19 et

- seq.—character of the work 20—manners of this city 23.
- Germans*, whether esteemed in the U. S. 11—their language disappearing.
- Gibbe*, Col. cabinet gave the first impulse to the study of mineralogy in America 226.
- Goodwin*, the report of his trial reviewed 214 et seq.
- Grau Wacke*, account of this rock 235.
- Greek*, on studying it before the Latin 209 et seq.—causes that delay the study of Greek 210—advantages of beginning with Greek 214—Greek and English lexicon 217.
- Greeks*, modern, their restoration impracticable 280—modern Greek nobility at Constantinople, their wretched condition 284.
- Greenstone*, abounding in N. England 237.
- H.
- Hadjee*, a title assumed both by Mahometan and Greek pilgrims 289.
- Holland*, supposed by some of the learned to be the elysian fields 271.
- Homicide*, the law concerning it in America 114—how regarded by the civil law 116.
- Hosack's* memoir of Williamson reviewed 31 et seq.—entitled to credit for bringing to public knowledge the author of the disclosure of the Hutchinson letters 37.
- Hospodar* of Wallachia, account of that dignity 290.
- I.
- Indians*, American, their right to the soil discussed 94—causes of their disappearance 96—importance of collecting their traditions 97—description of a party of vagrant indians in the neighbourhood of Boston 93. Discourse on the religion of the Indian tribes by Dr. Jarvis reviewed 103—increasing attention to the subject of the indians ib.—its causes 104—the
- religion of the indian tribes 105 et seq.—whether the Indians are descended from the ten tribes of Israel 108—want of a systematic orthography in the Indian languages 110—the importance of their study 113.
- Italy*, its agriculture, the letters of de Chateaufieux on this subject reviewed 49 et seq.—divided into three regions 56—the agriculture of Lombardy 57—of Tuscany 62—of the Maremma 64.
- J.
- Jarvis*, Dr. his discourse on the religion of the Indian tribes reviewed 103.
- Johnson*, his chancery reports reviewed 140—their character 164.
- K.
- Kent*, Mr. chancellor, his distinguished character 140—his agency in forming the chancery jurisdiction in America 150.
- L.
- Letters* of Hutchinson, Oliver, &c. disclosed at the beginning of the American revolution 31—Lawfulness of taking possession of them, 33—Said to have been done by Dr. Williamson 34—The question of probability of this fact discussed 34 et seq.
- M.
- Malaria*, account of it 65—7.
- Manufactures*, the evil of forcing them 52.
- Marshes* on the sea coast of America, the importance of draining them 93.
- Massachusetts* State Papers reviewed 306 et seq.—historical society 104.
- M'Clure*, his work on the geology of the United States 229.
- Mecca*, description of the pilgrims who arrive there 289.
- Mineralogy*, increased attention to it in America 226—value of this branch of science 228.
- Moldavia*, mode in which that province is governed 290.
- N.
- New Haven*, the university there
- New Series*, No. 4.

- took the lead in the study of mineralogy 227.
- New York*, the appropriations for the support of literature in, enumerated 423 et seq.
- Novel* writing, progress of taste in this department of literature 272.
- P.
- Painting* and poetry, different principles of imitation in the two arts 27.
- Paris*, account of this city by the author of the letters from Geneva 26.
- Paul's*, St. in Boston, the best built church in our country 88.
- Percy's Masque*, reviewed 384 et seq.—deficiency of the later English drama ib.—tendency to an artificial manner 385.
- Person*, William, life of, reviewed 394 et seq.
- Plague*, description of its ravages in a Turkish prison 285—excites less alarm than might be thought 286—precautions used against it ib. et 287.
- Po*, the elevation of the bed of this river 62.
- Privateering*, appeal to the government of the United States upon, reviewed 166—law of war the most important part of the law of nations 167—supposed to authorize the doing of the greatest possible harm to the enemy 167—8—barbarous character of privateering 171—its antiquity 170—progress of the law of privateering 174—plundering on land not authorized 182—reasons which have caused it to be continued at sea 183—Dr. Franklin's opinion against privateering 187—this practice ought to be abolished 188—its bad effects on the morals of seamen 194.
- Q.
- Quarterly Review* refuted on the subject of the law of debtor and creditor in the United States 200 et seq.
- R.
- Revolution*, the American, brought about rather by the people than the legislatures 307—the public act best entitled to be considered the beginning of it was that of the Massachusetts legislature of 1764, 308—first convention at New York in 1765, 311.
- Rice*, its culture in Lombardy 61.
- Rousseau's Confessions* 342—his objection to the use of fables in the education of children 422.
- Rome*, its population decreases 66.
- S.
- Sacred Music*, the Bridgewater Collection of, reviewed 38 et seq.—progress of taste for sacred music in New England 39—difficulties of a judicious compilation for church service ib.—character and analysis of this compilation 40 et seq.
- Say*, M. condemns a forced patronage of manufactures 54.
- Shakspeare's* ignorance of the languages 417.
- Silliman's Journal* 229.
- Spencer*, Chief Justice, his opinion in the case of Goodwin 122.
- Staël*, Mad. de, her appearance described 21—her manner of representing national character 2—her life by Mad. Necker noticed 124—Mad de Staël's works universally read 125—difficulty of doing justice to her character ib. sketch of her life 126—her letters on Rousseau 127—essay on the passions 129—doctrine of perfectibility 131—reflections on suicide 132—suicide cannot justly be called an act of cowardice 133—Delphine 134—death of M. Necker 136—Corinne 137—de l'Allemagne ib.—observations on the French revolution 139.
- Statuary*, the principles of imitation which govern it differ from those of painting 28.
- St Augustine*, the vanity which led to his Confessions 343.
- Stevens*, Gen. Ebenezer, concerned in the destruction of the tea at Boston 37.

- Straw* hats, manufacture of them in Tuscany 64
- Swiss* colony at Vevay 13.
- T.
- Turks*, the corrupt and depraved character of, 279, 280—Turkish army described 297—Turkish burial grounds 71
- U.
- Universities*, improvements in the classical education of 422.
- W
- Wahhabees*, account of the origin and progress of this sect 299–301.
- Wallachia*, mode in which that province is governed 290.
- Western* states of America, their rapid growth 102.
- Williamson*, Dr. the biographical memoir of him by Dr. Hosack reviewed 31.